

PATIENTS ARE BEING CURED BY OPPENHEIMER TREATMENT

Reports from Each One of the Three Who is Taking the Treatment Through the Advocate, Is to the Same Effect, That the Craving for Drink Has Been Entirely Eliminated.

The three persons who responded to the per cent of this committee. The offer made in the Advocate of names speak for themselves. They January 22 to take the Oppenheimer cure for alcoholism now in exact condition, their craving for alcoholic stimulants entirely eliminated, and it is fair to believe that by the end of the treatment they will be in a normal state of health and as claimed by the Oppenheimer Institute, their systems as free from the toxic conditions of alcohol as if they had never taken any.

One of the patients, a professional man, said he had never felt better and had been abstinent from any kind of drink. His stomach has been restored, he eats and sleeps well, his nerves were steady and his brain clear. He is now able to give his entire attention to his work without giving a thought to the desire for whiskey which was ever present in his mind before taking the Oppenheimer treatment.

Another patient was in very bad shape, being on the verge of delirium tremens. He had been a drinker for years and the habit had become strong that he was a slave to liquor. He was very nervous and excited when he commenced the treatment, but after taking a few doses of the remedy he responded to its benificent effects and in a short time was past all danger. He, too, is now in excellent condition, eats well, sleeps good and his nervousness has entirely disappeared.

"I have no desire for liquor," he said last night, "and I am certain that when I have finished the course of treatment I will be better mentally and physically, than I have been for many years. I had a pretty close call this time and had not been fortunate enough to get the Oppenheimer treatment. I believe I would have died if it is certainly a wonderful medicine. I can scarcely believe that I am the same person I was a short time ago when I could hardly pass a liquor store without going in to get a drink."

The story of the third patient is similar to the preceding ones in the point of quick recovery and destroying of the craving for alcoholic stimulants. This one had also been a persistent drinker for years and though he had tried to stop many times had failed on account of the craving having grown too strong for him to overcome. He is getting along nicely the desire for stimulants gone, and he is commencing to look as if he had never taken a drink of whiskey in his life.

The excellent results obtained by the administration of the Oppenheimer treatment so far have justified the high endorsements it has received from the best known people in the United States, including statesmen, prominent physicians, eminent clergymen, distinguished lawyers, widely-known bankers, and business and professional men. It remains to be seen, however, what the ultimate result will be and to that end a committee of prominent citizens and clergymen have given their consent and will pass upon the final merits of the treatment as a preliminary step to the organization of this charter in Newark.

The gentlemen of the committee are simply in the attitude of investigators who after investigation, knowing that the claims made by the Oppenheimer Institute are true, feel that our city should have the benefit of so far-reaching a charity.

The committee are: A. H. Parsons, Mayor S. H. McCleavy, L. F. Carl, Rev. J. C. Schindel, Rev. L. C. Steers, Rev. H. N. Miller, Rev. L. S. Boyce, Rev. Mr. Bennett.

The Denison Glee club left Friday for Cambridge, where they gave a concert in the evening with Miss Elsie Hirschberg of this city and Denison Conservatory, as soloist. The club is in a thriving condition and the concert was no doubt a success.

Mr. Charles Dowling, the Newark musician who left this city in the summer of last year to become one of the Bud Farm Musical Trio, is meeting with excellent success and receiving some fine press notices. The following taken from the Danville News of Danville, Ill., expresses the appreciation of the people before whom the trio has been appearing:

"The Bud Farm Musical Trio easily holds first place with other musical acts of the same nature. This act is not one of the kind that introduces 'freak instruments to make it effective, but its popularity depends wholly upon the manner in which popular and standard music is rendered by genuine artists."

"The violin and harp duet 'Caviliera Rusticana' by Mr. Charles Dowling and Charles DeVoe is full of pathos and shows the artistic ability of these gentlemen.

Beautiful Statuary.

One of the most beautiful and attractive pieces of marble statuary that has ever been seen in Newark, has been on exhibition in the window of Guy & McGonagle, monument dealers. In the Avalon block on West Main street, for some days. It is an Italian statue of "Remembrance," and was carved in Carrara, Italy. The statue was ordered for Mrs. John Johl by Messrs. Guy & McGonagle, in remembrance of her husband, who died about one year ago. The "Remembrance" represents an angel with wings folded and clasping a wreath of flowers in her hands. The monument on which it will rest is of Barre granite, and the whole will be about nine feet high.

Forgot the Child.

An amusing incident occurred on a West Main street car Friday morning. A certain well known West End lady with her little boy about four years of age, boarded the car down in the city and soon became much engaged with some letters which she was reading. When the conductor called Maholm street, the lady evidently did not hear, but as soon as the car started she seemed to realize that she wanted to get off. So picking up her bundles she made a dash for the door and left the car before it had got under way. She had no sooner reached the ground than she discovered that the child was still on the car. He was busy looking out the window and failed to notice that he was left, until the conductor attracted by the frantic gestures of the mother down the street, stopped the car and let the little fellow off.

MEMBER SELECT LIST OF OHIO DAILY NEWSPAPERS.
New York Office—16 Nassau street
Robert Jones, Eastern Representative
Columbus Office—Journal Building, C. W. Willis, Western Representative.

There is considerable excitement in Chicago over the discovery of one policeman who does his duty. He is said to be very unpopular among the fellow officers.

Not so much is heard these days of that demand that the Republican national committee return to the life insurance companies the amount of the contributions they made.

Down in New Mexico about fifty people are reported to have died in the result of the cold weather which the South experienced last week. Weather conditions are somewhat reversed this winter. It would have been the thing for the people down South to come up North to spend a delightful winter.

If the Ohio legislature means to start out on a career of abolishing certain things because they are offensive to some people it should not overlook all the opportunities in this line. It should attach a penalty to the offense of the man who after eating garlic enters a street car or other crowded conveyance or public place.

And Why Not?

(Cincinnati Enquirer.)

Ex-President Grover Cleveland, in an address delivered before a medical association at Albany, recommended the doctors to forsake Latin for English writing in their prescriptions.

Just now there are pending bills before the Ohio legislature to compel the formula of all patent medicines sold in the state to be printed in plain English on the package, box or bottle.

Is not the suggestion of so eminent a person as Grover Cleveland quite a sensible and pertinent amendment to these bills? In the case of patent medicines many of them are of recognized standard because of long use. They claim virtues for special ailments. One who buys them does so because of established repute. If the owners of these medicines are to be required to disclose to the world the secret of their compound, why not the doctors who write prescriptions in Latin text? If the aim of the sponsors for these measures is to have the people know just what they are taking, is it not only fair an amendment to the pending bill should attach, providing that all prescriptions of doctors of medicine practicing in Ohio should be written in plain English?

Obviously, to compel one class to give up the secrets of their formulas and protect another in not giving them up is not what President Roosevelt calls the "square deal." Rather, indeed, it would appear as if the authors might not have the public welfare so much at heart as some sinister motive not directly associated with the health of the people.

bound that that organization will oppose any proposition looking to the repeal of that clause in the municipal code which gives the governor power to remove mayors. The Anti-Saloon League expects that when Governor Pattison recovers his health he will demand the enforcement of the Sunday laws at the hands of the various mayors of the state and that upon their refusal or neglect, to comply with his demands he will remove them from office. Nevertheless, in both parties the sentiment against this power vested in the executive is rapidly growing and requires only a desire to repeal this provision of the code. The idea that practically all municipal government in Ohio is to be centralized in the state house at Columbus is not a popular one, and there are even strong temperance advocates who have enough regard for the principle of home rule to look with disfavor on the expectations of the Anti-Saloon league in this matter. Of course nobody knows what Governor Pattison's attitude really is or how far he would go to enforce his public utterances on the subject of Sunday laws against open saloons, baseball, etc. There is a chance, however, for sensational developments if a contest arises over this question, while the legislature is in session.

FIGHT FOR A TWO CENT FARE BEING CARRIED ON IN EARNEST

Nothing Perfunctory About the Bill, and Never in the History of the Ohio Legislation Has the Railroads Made Such a Fight--The Bill Will Undoubtedly Pass.

Columbus, O., Feb. 3.—It's all the talk—2-cent fare.

Other subjects have been of secondary interest this week, and there have been some important subjects before the legislature since Monday. Not for years did a 2-cent fare bill create such a scene as was witnessed at the capital during the discussion of the Rathburn and Freiner bills for 2-cent fare. In former years railway lobbyists did not deem it necessary to openly oppose such a measure. Passes were plentiful then. Every session had its 2-cent fare bill but the committee on railroads was dependent on "take care of it."

It has been said, at times, that these bills were "milliners." Governor Pattison said this about a bill he voted against in the state senate 11 years ago. It has been surmised, sometimes, that such bills were introduced with the connivance of the committee on railroads so as to augment the importance of that committee after the bill had been introduced.

"Then tell me why you give such milliners as me passes just because we are in the legislature."

Mr. Fisher said he couldn't answer.

Representative Stewart of Fairfield took a tall out of W. H. Fisher of the Hocking Valley. Mr. Stewart wanted to know if it wouldn't help some if the men who ride on passes were made to pay fare. Mr. Fisher thought it would.

"Then tell me why you give such milliners as me passes just because we are in the legislature."

Mr. Fisher said he couldn't answer.

Representative Weitz of Wayne, said: "The people of Ohio will have 2-cent rate and railroad regulation, or they'll have the railroads. It is common talk that the railroad commissioner's office is nothing more nor less than an adjunct of the railroads, and do you expect the people to accept figures from his reports?"

"You are having statistics showered on you," said Mayor Tom L. Johnson. He declared the figures might be fair enough, but that the railway men were not fair in their deductions. He said reduced fare always resulted in increased business, and remarked that a 2-cent rate would be a higher rate today that the 3-cent rate was 20 years ago.

And so the argument went on. There were many more speakers, some representing railway employees, others labor organizations, and others the commercial travelers.

The upshot of it all was that the house committee voted to recommend Mr. Freiner's bill instead of the Rathburn bill already passed by the senate. The Freiner bill fixes a straight 2-cent rate for all distances over five miles. And the house will pass the bill almost unanimously.

"Will the senate pass the Freiner bill if it passes the house?" Senator Williams, Democratic floor leader of the senate, was asked.

Henry Aphor of the Lake Shore came nearest expressing the feelings of the railway forces when he scornfully declared: "We were lynched in the senate and we expect to be hung in the house, but we don't want to be hanged without a hearing."

They got their hearing before the house committee. It was fair that they should, and it was well for the people that they got it, for they succeeded brilliantly in making their opposition appear absurd and in making the people's cause stronger. They had here for their chief speaker that well-known magnate who arose from the ranks until he is one of the greatest railway managers, James McRea, vice president of the Pennsylvania lines. Mr. McRea had a full cargo of statistics and did his best to make them substantiate his arguments.

Some of the statistics and arguments offered by the speakers got hard raps as the hearing progressed. J. Kirby of the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton road, said the passenger traffic of his road amounted to $16,000 per year and that to reduce that amount one-third would put his road out of the passenger business. But Mr. Kirby did not separate from the aggregate the receipts from mileage books and excursion traffic carried at a 2-cent rate and less, so that 2-cent fare would not cut down the passenger revenues of his road one third.

Representative Freiner told Henry Aphor the railroads could afford to give 2-cent fare if they would cut the lobbyists off of their payrolls.

When Mr. McRea declared that the railroads operate at a loss with a 2-cent rate Mr. Freiner asked him how the roads could afford to carry excursionists at 1/2 or 2 cent rates. The reply to this was that excursion rates made full trains, and the reply to

By adopting the Meek resolution for electing United States senators by direct vote the Ohio legislature is put on record for the first time as having both branches act favorably on this Democratic issue of long standing not found in Republican platforms. Heretofore such a resolution might have been introduced by the Senate.

On the way, the house committee on railroads voted to recommend the adoption of Senator O'Rourke's resolution to "command" Senators Dick and Poraker to stand by the president on 10-cent rate legislation. Except that the house committee substituted the word "request" for the word "command," and it probably will have about the same effect.

A New and Wonderful System of Shorthand.

Mr. Chartier, author of the famous CHARTIER SHORTHAND, will deliver a lecture at the Bliss Business College on South Fourth Street, Monday evening, February 5th, at 7:30, thoroughly demonstrating this marvelous system of writing.

We have adopted CHARTIER'S SHORTHAND. The most wonderful educational discovery of the age.

By virtue of the leadership, state-wide reputation and absolute reliability of the Bliss College we have secured the sole right to teach this marvelous system of rapid writing for all this part of the country.

Chartier's shorthand has been adopted by every leading college that has investigated its wonderful advantages, and the unoccupied territory is being eagerly sought.

Chartier's Shorthand is the most wonderful system of shorthand ever invented. It will eventually drive all other systems out of existence. For the slow, uncertain, complicated, hard-to-learn way of doing anything must as surely give way to the swift, sure, simple, easy-to-learn way as night must give way to day.

But figure it for yourself, compare it with the Pitman, Electric or Gregg systems, for example. These contain hundreds of rules, hundreds of exceptions and thousands of hard-to-learn word-signs and contractions. CHARTIER'S SHORTHAND consists simply of the alphabet and

Ten Simple Rules

That's all. No contractions, no exceptions, no omissions of vowels or consonants, no long or short vowel distinctions, no dots or dashes, no complicated outlines. Few word-signs, in fact, none of the things that have prevented speed and expert work among the many.

CHARTIER'S SHORTHAND, which the Bliss Business College has adopted, which it recommends and which it guarantees, makes it possible for a person who knows nothing about shorthand to become a shorthand writer with a speed of 125 words per minute, on unfamiliar matter in 13 the time required in other systems.

Nothing like it. It is new, wonderful and absolutely reliable.

COURT REPORTERS, PROFESSIONAL STENOGRAPHERS AND SHORTHAND INSTRUCTORS, ARE URGED TO ATTEND THIS DEMONSTRATION CLASS MONDAY EVENING, FOR PERSONAL INVESTIGATION OF THE MARVELOUS RESULTS CLAIMED. EVERYBODY INVITED.

DAVIS' BLUFF

Claims He Will Fight Against Being Discharged as Water Works Engineer by the B. P. S.

Engineer Davis has put up a fight that he will fight against being discharged by the Board of Public Service. The Board maintains that it has the right to remove Davis in and event. If Davis was simply an employee of the B. P. S. the Board claims the absolute right to remove him, the same as any other employee. But if Davis sets up the claim that he has a contract with the city, then the defense of the Board will be that his contract is illegal and void for the reason that no advertisement for bids for the engineering work was ever had, as the law requires for every expenditure in excess of $500. It is certain that no such advertisement was ever published in a paper of general circulation in the city of Newark, and this is a distinct requirement of the law.

City Solicitor Bolton was closeted with the members of the Board of Service Saturday morning, but whether the conference was relative to any communication which might have been received from Davis, could not be learned.

When asked what reply Davis had made to their letter the board stated he no word had been received. Mr. L. Darnell, Mr. Davis' representative, is still in the city and has been for some time. ### REPRIMANDED that you be reprimanded by the secretary of the navy.

The naval regulations are the standing orders of the president as its commander in chief, and as such demand the prompt, strict and respectful obedience of every officer subordinate to fulfill conscientiously the obligations of his oath of office. Laziness in their observance is inexcusable on the part of any one attached to the service, but the gravity of this fault is far greater in the case of an officer in command in the case. Such conduct renders him responsible for the idle negligence on the part of subordinates caused by his example and exhibits to the others and men under his orders the demoralizing spectacle of insufficient respect for the regulations on the part of the very person who is bound to secure their faithful observance.

In your case there was greater reason that you should have been careful to comply in letter and spirit with every provision of the regulation because your merited reputation for courage and gallantry and your brilliant services in the past would surely render failure on your part to do all that an officer should do the more obnoxious on true principles of discipline among younger recruits of your profession.

A bad example on the part of one of your previous record is exceptionally hurtful to the vital interests of the service and it is therefore cause of profound regret to the department that you should have been thus judicially established.

X-TREASURER STATE OF WISCONSIN

Uses Peruna In His Own Family as a Catarrh Remedy.

Geo. W. Honey, Ex-Treasurer of the State of Wisconsin, is a man of wide acquaintance and extensive experience.

He has used Peruna in his own family with the most gratifying results.

He gives it unqualified endorsement as an efficacious catarrh remedy.

It is just such testimony as this which has given Peruna such a high standard in the estimation of the American public.

There is no possible way to gain any frank and genuine testimony.

The only way to account for such testimony is the fact that Peruna really does what it claims for it.

Because it relieves catarrh, it clears the way for Nature to reassert her sway over the physiological forces of the body and thus rid the system of a great many different chronic diseases.

Catarrh is the stronghold of lingering diseases. Once rid the system of catarrh and it is very difficult indeed for disease to linger very long.

Followed Dr. Hartman's Advice.

Mr. John C. Nelson, Dayton, Tenn., geologist and mining engineer, while a Captain in the Federal Army during the Civil War, contracted a case of rheumatism.

AMUSEMENTS

TO-NIGHT AT 8:15.

• THE IRISH PAWNBROKERS.

"The Irish Pawnbrokers" the big news of the month in this play is well known and here it is in full. The playing box was imported directly from Japan and what the curtain producer would say in this afternoon and evening. This is the fourth year of unparalleled success of this farce comedy, and an entirely new fourth edition by Mr. Edgar Seiden is promised. There is said to be a well defined plot with rhyme and reason for the many amusing situations and complications that follows one another in rapid order. The musical numbers written for the skit and sung by the chorus in their gay gowns and pretty millinery form one of the most distinct novelties ever offered in a farce comedy. The famous farce comedy stars Davis and Mack head the list and will be assisted by Baroness Von Zeller, Violet Hillson, Tony Murphy, Opal Wilson, Marie Dockman, the Danie Sisters, the Pawnbroker trio, Will Rosay, Jas. R. Lee, and Tunis Conway and chorus.

THE DARLING OF THE GODS.

Among the numerous "properties" which are used in David Belasco's great production of his far-famed drama of old Japan, "The Darling of the Gods" which comes to the Auditorium theater Monday night, is a Japanese praying box, a quaint looking affair that surrounds the tomb of the Princess Yo-San's mother, seen in the third act. The box is of ebony wood, and stands about one foot in height. Its interior is a jumbled mass of golden bangles and bracelets of the kind could not be purchased in New York, he had a sum of importers send to Nagasaki or it. What it cost on a little ivory platform, sits a small gold statue of the great god Buddha, the importers cannot be told, but the David Belasco's insistence on correct bill they rendered Mr. Belasco and was necessary in the picture and had beautiful dances, specialties by home and visiting artists, songs and dances by Newark's leading people, and many other excellent features. The reserved seat sale for "America" will begin Thursday morning. Secure your seats in time.

NERVE TABLETS

Sergeant Orr's Letter

Nerve troubles are real. They lead to disastrous results. That may happen to any one. Zell Nerve Tablets feed starved nerves. That's why they restore perfect health. They build nerve strength. They tone up the nervous system and make rich red blood.

Read what Sergeant Orr, winner of the Sea Girt championship medal for rifle shooting, says about Zell Nerve Tablets:

NEWARK, OHIO, Sept. 17, 1905.

THE ZELL DRUG CO., Galion, Ohio,
Gentlemen:—With pleasure accept my appreciation of your valuable Nerve Remedy—
Zell Nerve Tablets. When I began practicing for the National Rifle Shootings, I had a weak, nervous, and fatigued condition for such an event. I do not consider myself in the position to use any other remedy, as I have already done a number of contests in the streets, and have selected Zell as one of the contestants in the National Invitational Rifle Shootings.

My success I attribute largely to the use of your medicine and your medical advice. I am waiting for the title which I now bear, the Champion of Every Rifle Shoot in the United States.

I regard your remedy as a true blessing, and would advise any one needing a Nerve Remedy to at least give Zell Nerve Tablets a trial.

Sergeant CLARENCE E. ORR,
Competitor in National Rifle Shoot, Newark, Ohio.

THE MARRIAGE OF KITTY.

"The Marriage of Kitty" which was presented throughout the country last season and at that time proved one of the most lasting successes and one of the very few really successful of the newer plays, will be given in this city at the Auditorium on Thursday evening, with Manager Mrs. Murray's excellent company, headed by Miss Alice Johnson, whom the critics well remember as a delightful comedienne and singer. The comedy is pure and wholesome, all the action being smooth and repartee,穿插 with epigrammatic speeches and the amusing varieties and whimsies of Kitty, who is the life and laughter of the sparkling comedy since she must be witnessed to be appreciated.

AMERICA.

On the nights of February 12 and 13, Newark people will have the pleasure of attending one of the more elaborate spectacles production ever attempted by home talent "America." Much time and trouble has been expended in preparing for the event and those who have seen the practice rehearsal are loud in their praise. Among the many grand things offered are magnificient tablaux, grand chorus of five voices, mounting marches, grand belllets

St. Luke's Commandery No. 51, K. T., has appointed a meeting for work to be held on Tuesday evening, February 12, at which time the order of the Red Cross will be conferred, to be followed by a banquet.

It has been decided by Center Lodge F. & A. M. of Johnstown, to hold a special convention on Friday afternoon and evening February 9th for the purpose of conferring the sublime degree of Master Mason upon a large class.

Modern Woodmen. Cedar Camp No. 4727 M. W. of A had one of the best meetings on last Wednesday night that has been held for some time, with a turn out of about 250 of the members. Five applications for membership were received and acted upon and August J. Kiehl and Albert Double were shown through the forest. The consul, advisor, banker, clerk and escort were appointed as a promotion committee for the good of the order.

The banquet committee deserve great credit for the elegant banquet which was served after the business of the order was over, which consisted of stewed oysters, celery and pickles, which were enjoyed by all present.

Prof. Cromer of Buckeye Camp of Zanesville, was present and rendered some choice music upon the organ during the adoption ceremony.

The promotion committee will be glad to receive any proposition which the Neighbors may propose for the benefit of the order. In the near future another banquet will be given, and a larger turnout of the members will be expected than there were at the last meeting.

Several new recruits will be taken into the forest team and the team will begin drilling for the week of the forest encampment which will be held at Cedar Point this summer.

Deputy W. S. Brandt is with us again, and Neighbors if you have any prospective candidates who would like to join the Modern Woodmen hand their names to Deputy Brandt. Don't forget to come to the meetings as there will be work, and if you have any proposition to offer hand it over to the consul who will take care of it for you.

At the meeting of the directors which was held in January, it was decided that there would be no assessment levied for the month of February.

So Neighbors, if you know of any Neighbor who is in temporary suspension, use your influence upon him to get him to reinstate. You will be doing him and yourself a great favor by so doing.

Royal Archm.

At the next session of Bayard Taylor Council to be held February 12 Brothers Franklin Rubert and Lanigan Seymour, two of the best orators in the grand council, will be present and the entertainment committee will have something extra.

At the session held February 22, the members were very enthusiastic over the reports of the condition of the order.

After the session was closed Broth. W. A. Ashbrook entertained in a very satisfactory manner.

Independent Order of Foresters.

The Independent Order of Foresters will give their first annual ball on Tuesday evening, February 6, at Assembly hall. Extensive preparations are making to have the event a high ly enjoyable one. This society is one of the most progressive and popular of the fraternities, and its membership has shown a steady growth from its organization. The first annual ball given by the order promises to be an occasion that will be long and pleasantly remembered by all who attend. Admittance is on invitation only. All foresters and their friends are expected to be present. Match's orchestra will furnish the music.

American Insurance Order.

Newark Chapter No. 24 meets every Thursday evening in its hall on West Main street. The attendance at each meeting will average two hundred. Applications are received at every meeting and candidates are always found awaiting in the anteroom to be instructed in the teachings of the order. Three candidates were found waiting Thursday evening and were instructed by the ladies' degree team. Owing to the fine winter weather we are having but few members are on the sick list considering the large membership.

Both degree teams will meet Friday evening February 9, for a combined drill, and it is urged that every member of the two teams be present.

Members wishing to invite their friends to go with them to Columbus on the 22d of February, Washington's birthday, to attend the publication of a class of a thousand members in the Memorial hall on East Broad street, will leave their addresses with the secretary at the A. I. U. office, West Main street, and an invitation will be mailed them. At end to this early in order that a correct number of cars can be ordered.

The fare for the round trip, including the exhibition drill of teams from Detroit, Cleveland and Dayton chapters and a grand ball immediately following, with an orchestra of twenty-five players until 12 midnight, will be but 70 cents. No one can afford to miss this grand opportunity. The first car will leave the Interurban station at 2:15 p. m. All others cars will leave in the evening at 6:15, and returning will leave Columbus corner East Broad and Third street, at 12 midnight. Tickets will be good on special cars only. Home Guards of America.

Newark Home No. 34 held regular home meeting last Wednesday evening with an excellent turnout of its membership, candidates and applicants. The degree team being in good trim was kept busily at work for a while and still more to follow, looks as though the entire membership of the home would get busy in a very short time. The committee in charge of anniversary celebration to be held February 21, 1906, requests all members having any part in entertainments or any suggestions to offer should attend the next meeting. In fact all members of the home should come and take part in the grand undertaking as we are all equally interested in the social features of the home and all members present will receive special printed invitations to distribute among their friends. Remember the Home Guards meet every Wednesday evening in the year.

COURT HOUSE NEWS.

Divorce Petition Filed.
 Merna Frazer, by her attorney, J. R. Fitzgibbon, has commenced suit in the Probate court against her husband, Carl Frazer, for divorce. The plaintiff says that she was married to the defendant on September 16, 1890 and that one child, Willie, aged about four years, was born of the marriage. For cause of action, plaintiff charges her husband with extreme cruelty. Plaintiff says that her husband is the owner of considerable property and she asks that a restraining order be issued enjoining him from disposing of any of this property during the pendency of this suit. Plaintiff also says that she is the owner in fee simple of a farm of 78 acres in Hartford township, this county a part of which she inherited from her parents and a part of which she has recently purchased, and she asks that at the final hearing of this case that the defendant's contingent right of dower may be barred and that she may be given title absolutely to the property. She also asks for the custody of their minor child and for alimony. It reads as follows:

Question of Jurisdiction.
 In the cases of Arnold Norpell, Susan Hartman and H. M. Coulter against the Columbus Natural Gas company, the defendant has filed motions to dismiss the cases for want of jurisdiction over the defendant, and asks that the service of summons in the cases be quelled on the grounds. First, that it does not appear that the defendant is a corporation organized for the purpose of mining or operating for petroleum oil or gas exclusively, or in connection with other business in Licking county, or that the defendant owns or operates a mine or well for petroleum or gas in Licking county, or that the cause of action, or some part thereof arose in Licking county.

Second, that the service or summons by the sheriff of Franklin county upon Thomas M. Kier, general superintendent of the defendant, is not authorized by law.

G. C. Daugherty and Kibler, Kibler & Montgomery, attorneys for the defendant.

Transcripts Filed.
 Transcripts from the criminal docket of Justice Lee S. Lake in the following cases have been filed with County Clerk Hursey:
